CONSTITUENCY WISE ANALYSIS OF GVA
2015-16

Directorate of Economics & Statistics
Planning Department
Government of Andhra Pradesh
Andhra Pradesh State has been moving ahead with a Mission based strategy and the government is keen to ensure that all the fruits of welfare and development initiatives reach the last mile of the targeted group. Towards this endeavour, the government heralded the Double Digit Growth Strategy with focus on a balanced, sustainable and inclusive socio economic development of all the districts in the State.

The state and district level strategies under the broad framework of double-digit inclusive growth put in place started yielding desired outcomes. Government intends that sub-district level strategies are imperative to ensure balanced development below the state and district levels.

Analysis of economic aggregates such as GVA play a key role in giving a prescription to improve the health of the economy, identifying the potential sectors at constituency level. This will also help to locate the backward areas and untapped resources, requiring focused attention of the Government.

The role of the people’s representatives in the journey of development of the state is noteworthy. The Constituency Domestic Product Estimates (CDP) prepared by Directorate of Economics & Statistics will be of immense use for the elected representatives, especially for acquiring better comprehension of the local strengths. This publication provides insights into the economic status of 175 constituencies in the state and serve as a tool to workout appropriate plans for development.
The Government is committed to ensure that fruits of development reach the last mile and last person and to accomplish this, several policy interventions are introduced from time to time. This calls for critical analysis of the economy at sub-state level, even at sub-district level to focus on potential areas and to resolve issues relating to backwardness.

To supplement the existing statistics at sub state level, CDP & MDP Estimates were also compiled. The CDP estimates are helpful to know the economic development of various constituencies and also to identify the potential and grey areas for preparation of appropriate strategies.

I am happy to note that the Directorate of Economics & Statistics is bringing out the publication, `Constituency Domestic Product Estimates (CDP) for 2015-16`, second in its series. This report will help to analyse the performance of each constituency in the reference period on the economic front and serves as a tool in the hands of the public representatives to plan for the betterment of their respective Constituencies.

I appreciate the attempt made by the Directorate of Economics & Statistics and earnestly hope that this will serve as a trendsetter for other states to emulate.

Yanamala Ramakrishnudu
Hon'ble Minister for Finance, Planning, Commercial Taxes & Legislative Affairs
The Government of Andhra Pradesh, notwithstanding the challenges arose after the state reorganization in June 2014, started making efforts to bring back the glory of the state on the global map. The government has put in place several new polices, relevant programmes and initiatives during the last three years. With repeated interactions with various segments of the population, offices, academia and NGOs on various platforms, strategies have been devised by the government to transform the state as a happy, inclusive & globally competitive and knowledge society through a sustained double-digit growth.

Under the dynamic leadership of the Hon'ble Chief Minister, the Directorate of Economics & Statistics made an attempt in 2016 to prepare and release GVA estimates at constituency level for the year 2014-15. The idea is to throw some light on the relative strengths, potential areas and economic dynamics of the Assembly Constituencies in all the districts. These initiatives were well taken and found to be useful in identifying the potential areas and other critical gaps on economic front at constituency level, paving the way for localized planning.

This publication is second in the series and the CDP estimates are prepared duly consolidating the MDP estimates at Constituency level using appropriate indicators, reflecting the ground level scenario. The CDP estimates broadly indicate the contribution of each sector in the Constituency.

The involvement of Chief Planning Officers at district level and the hard work put in by the State Economy Division in DE&S is commendable. Any suggestions for the improvement of the publication are welcome.

INTRODUCTION

CONSTITUENCY DOMESTIC PRODUCT (CDP) – AN INDICATIVE SUB-DISTRICT LEVEL ECONOMIC AGGREGATION

Andhra Pradesh is surging ahead with innovative ideas to realize its long term vision of transforming itself into a global destination by 2050. The encouraging performance, especially in growth terms during the last three years speaks volumes of the commitment of the Government. Serious thought process coupled with consultative and brainstorming interactions in different fora started yielding results as evident from the tangible growth outcomes. Leveraging the enormous powers of technology and huge human capital, the state is focusing on holistic development with use of technology at cutting edge level.

Micro level planning remains the cornerstone of development strategy and under its larger domain, district and sub-district level planning renders the local administration make use of the limited resources for wider impact on various segments of the society.

GSDP is a measure of economic growth and is an indicator of development of the state. The sub-state level economic growth estimates viz., District Domestic Product (DDP) not only helps the district administration to identify the potential areas for development but also tracks grey areas that call for special thrust. The DDP is further drilled downed to mandal level, known as Mandal Domestic Product (MDP) estimates. With the inspiration given by the Hon’ble Chief Minister, the Directorate of Economics & Statistics made an attempt for the first time in 2016 to compile GVA estimates at constituency level for the year 2014-15.

The two important economic indicators at constituency level viz., Gross Value Added (GVA) and Per Capita Income (PCI) provide valuable inputs to have a glimpse of the economic status of constituency and standard living of the people and to focus on potential areas for speedy development of the constituency. The time series data on Constituency Domestic Product (CDP) indicate the pattern of development and structural shifts in economy.

Based on the MDP estimates, the economic scenario at constituency level i.e., the Constituency Domestic Product estimates (CDP) have been arrived for the year 2015-16.
There are 175 constituencies in the Andhra Pradesh state. Each constituency is unique in its own with strengths and varied geographical, agro-climatic and socio-economic conditions. Current estimates of CDP revealed that the conventional agrarian economy is slowly shifting towards its allied sectors like fishing, horticulture and profitable agro processing subsectors. Rapid industrialization coupled with liberal policies of the government are the main contributing factors that are pushing the industrial growth forward. The direct and positive correlation between urbanisation and growth is evident in the present report. The usual predominance of service sector contribution to GSDP was also reflected at sub district level. On the whole, the pattern revealed in the present study at constituency level reflected the local strengths in building the growth momentum.

However, lack of precise data sets at constituency level restricts the scope for rigorous statistical analysis. The methodology adopted for arriving the CDP estimates is broadly indicative in nature. Due to non-availability of better indicators below district and at sub sector level, these estimates only indicate the peripheral distinctions among the constituencies in agriculture, industries and services sectors. Nonetheless, the estimates represent the broad economic development and state of economic affairs at constituency level and may not truly depict the true sign of ground picture.

Further, the estimates of GVA are being revised year on year from Advance estimates [AE] to First Revised estimates [FRE], Second Revised Estimates [SRE] there by finally Third Revise Estimates [TRE], with the availability of improved data sets. Thus, the previous estimates of 2014-15 FRE have been further updated as 2014-15[SRE] and compared these estimates with 2015-16 [FRE]. Moreover, the compilation of MDP estimates have been done using refined indicators for this publication and thus a slight degree of variation may take place in respect of rankings secured by the constituencies when compared to the ranks in earlier report.

The information provided will be handy to the public representatives to concentrate on the backward areas and potential sectors in the constituency to attract investments. Further this information might be helpful to channelize the government funds in a prudent manner.

This report reveals the performance of all 175 Constituencies in the state at sectoral level at current prices for the year 2015-16 in new base.

Notes:
- The data includes the area in square kilometers, population, total gross value added (GVA), and per capita income (PCI).
- The ranks are based on various economic indicators including agriculture, industry, and services.
- The PCI rank indicates the position within the districts for per capita income.
- Further analysis and comparison can be conducted using this data.
